NEWS AND COMMENTS.

THE Maine Republicans must be a nice lot of fellows to be acquainted with.

"A KANSAS woman predicts that the world will come to an end November 19th." Not exactly; but a good part of the Republican party will come to an end a short while before—on election day.

D. M. BARRINGER, a Philadelphia lawyer, but a native of North Carolina, performed an almost unparalleled swimming feat in the Delaware River last week—covering a course of 20 miles and being in the water for 9 hours. He is 30 years of age.

CAPT. A. H. A. WILLIAMS, the Democratic nominee, and Hon. JOHN M. BROWER, the present Radical Representative, of the 5th Congressional District, have arranged for a joint canvass of their political territory. "Johnny, get your gun; get your gun!" for the fur is going to fly.

THE Statesville Landmark was out last week, and, oh, my! dressed to kill. If Jo CALDWELL has "togged" himself proportionally with his paper his old friends wouldn't know him. The Landmark is now one of the handsomest, as it has long been one of the best, newspapers in North Carolina.

PAPERS may come and papers may go; but the New York Herald, as a newspaper—comprehensive in scope and design, perfect in all its appointments and details, the symmetrical and well-rounded result of laborious work and systematic training—remains the triumph of journalism in the nineteenth century.

THE New York Herald and New York Star have systematically gone to work to right the wrongs suffered by the great metropolis in an unfair census enumeration, and are bringing forward volumes of proof in substantiation of their claim that the population of the city is at least 100,000 more than is credited to it.

RALEIGH intends to do the thing up in style on the occasion of the convention of Democratic Clubs in that city next week. Whoever desires to participate in a rousing political jubilee, with an opportunity of hearing some of the most distinguished orators of the State and country, should not forego a visit to the capital city at that time—even if he has to "foot it."

In these days men are "lords of" only a part of "creation." Woman—winsome, loving, tender woman—finds strength in her frail elbows to push her way to the front. The Wilmington Messenger, casting about for the best stenographic reporter of the Sam Jones meetings to take place in that city, has selected Miss GERTRUDE C. JENKINS, of Salem, for that arduous duty. All honor to Miss JENKINS!

"SENATOR HAMPTON, of South Carolina, says that while he will accept a reelection to the Senate, if so honored, he will not ask for it. He says he has never asked for an office, and that it is too late to begin now." This is characteristic of the unselfish patriot, but it is dreadfully old-fashioned—hardly less so, in fact, than would be a man walking the streets in knee-breeches, silk waistcoat and powdered hair. The HAMPTON breed of politicians is dying out very fast.

"THE world do move." The splendid ocean steamship, the Teutonic, made its last voyage in 5 days, 20 hours, 54 minutes—a fraction over 21 miles per hour throughout the whole journey, over 500 miles having been traversed in the best day's run. The old-time railroad speed for water travel, a mile a minute for the rail, and blooded horses trained almost to fly—where are we going to stop? It would not surprise us to hear of an ox cart galloping into town with a load of wood at the rate of 12 or 15 miles an hour.

THE government evidently considers that all its "wards" have grown up since the days of Reconstruction and the Freedman's Bureau, and are abundantly able to shift for themselves. The negro convention held in Raleigh on the 26th ult. appointed a committee of very intelligent and influential men of the race to proceed to Washington, and lay before President HARRISON certain grievances, among which were white bossism and mighty little show in the parceling out of the "loaves and fishes." When the committee returned they were like the little boy in the story—they had nothing to say. Exactly what took place has not transpired, but it is understood that winter had already set in at the White House.

THE Democrats of Sampson county have boldly invaded the editorial sanctum, and taken therefrom their nominee for the State Senate. Mr. MARION BUTLER, the accomplished editor of our excellent contemporary, the Clinton Caucasian, will carry the banner in this campaign. He is, if we mistake not, a graduate of the University of North Carolina; and, though yet a young man, is one of the foremost educators in the State. He has been a very earnest advocate of a railroad commission for the State, and is ex-President and now Lecturer of the Farmers' Alliance of his county. He was permanent chairman of the Congressional Convention at Clinton on the 23rd of July, and made a very effective presiding officer. The party may expect a splendid canvass, though his nomination is equivalent to an election.

MR. W. A. GUTHRIE, a former esteemed resident of Fayetteville, now living at Durham, has recently published a card, formally abjuring the Republican party. This will give pleasure to his Democratic friends, who, appreciating his ability and many admirable qualities, have for years been in a state of surprise that he could endure his political associations. While we permit no one to go before us as consistent, faithful Southern Democrats, our partisanship is not so unreasoning as to see only perfection in Democracy; but, on the other hand, we honestly do not believe that a political organization ever before existed so utterly reckless, so thoroughly corrupt, so inherently inimical to the principles of good constitutional government as the present Republican party—and, knowing Mr. GUTHRIE'S sincere love for the South, his State and his people, we have often thought of him in the language of the old French apothegm: t"Que le diable fait-il dans cette galere?"

Sunday School Convention.

For the Observer.]

The Sunday School Convention of 71st Township met at Galatia Church, Thursday, September 4th.

The exercises commenced with praise service, after which Rev. Mr. Byrd delivered an address, which was both entertaining and instructive. He gave a sketch of Timothy's life, of his instruction in the Word by his mother Eunice and his grandmother Lois. He also emphasized the necessity of more Bible study, more thorough teaching of the truths of religion, and the work that mothers should do; also referred to the untold amount of good some mothers have done.

The Convention was then organized by the election of the following officers:

J. W. McLauchlin, President.
D. A. Blue, Vice-President.
A. Sessoms, Secretary.
John McMillan, Treasurer.

Mr. Geo. P. McNeill then gave an account of the Sunday school work in the county; pointed out the Sunday schools on a map—showing the denomination of the different schools, the Union Sunday schools, &c.

Mr. D. A. Blue gave an account of the Sunday school work in the township.

Rev. J. M. Rose, of Greenville, S. C., gave his experience with regard to Sunday school work.

Mr. J. W. McLauchlin spoke on the same subject, after which the convention adjourned for dinner.

The crowd then went to a mill about a half mile distant from the church and found the table in a beautiful grove by a stream and a spring bubbling out from among the rocks on the hill-side—a very pretty scene and a pleasant crowd. These pleasures, however, were but for a moment, as a shower came, and the fortunate possessor of an umbrella became suddenly very popular.

When the shower was over a bountiful dinner was spread and enjoyed none the less on account of the delay.

The convention was called to order at 2:45. After the song service, "The Teacher Outside the School" was discussed by Mr. G. P. McNeill. He impressed upon the teacher the necessity of a thorough preparation of the lesson, and made a very touching and earnest appeal to teachers to feel an interest in the personal salvation of the children, and not only to feel but to express this interest.

Rev. J. M. Rose followed on the same subject, under the three heads: Preparation, Prayer and Personal Work, making a special plea for specific, earnest prayer, and giving several instances that came within his own knowledge of answer to prayer, thus encouraging every Sunday school teacher to pray for God's blessing on his work, and especially for each one under his instruction.

The next subject: "The Teacher Before His Class," was presented by Mr. Lamb in a very earnest and helpful talk.

Mr. McGill thanked the committee in behalf of the congregation and the people of Seventy-first for the convention, for their help and encouragement.

After the song service the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Byrd.

We hope and feel that the work done will not end with the day, but that much good will result and go on bearing fruit, that our Sunday school workers may endeavor to do more each day for the cause of the Master.

Which is Your Right Hand?

St. Louis Republic.]

An anatomist told me the other day that I could not tell him which was my right hand. I immediately held out my right hand, but he objected. He said that he did not say that I could not show or extend my right hand, but that I could not tell him which was my right hand—that is, that I could describe it in words so that one who had never heard of the distinction we make between the right and left hands would be able to find it. I thought that would be easy enough also until I took time to think the matter over; then I gave it up, for on the outside of a human body there is nothing to distinguish the right hand from the left. No one can describe it in words so that an ignorant person (one not knowing the distinctions we make) can find and locate it.

Different Kinds of Men and Women.

There is a lot of difference in men. There are some workmen in every town who make from one to two dollars per day to maintain families, buy homes and pay for them, simply by saving a penny whenever and wherever they can. There are others who make much more money, and at the end of a year if they could go to New York for five cents, they would not have enough money to stand near the railroad and see the train go by. There is a lot of difference in women too. Some women will lay up by littles hundreds of dollars out of their husband's wages; others will run up bills for him without any reference to his income.

Everybody Weighed.

It would astonish many of us sometimes, if we could know what our neighbors think of us. Every man has some kind of a standing in the community where he lives, and he is sized up a great deal closer than he has any idea of. You may set it down as a fact that there isn't a twelve year old boy in your neighborhood who hasn't got his opinion of you, and he wouldn't be slow about expressing it either, if a stranger should ask him for it. Every man is always making character, whether he is doing anything else or not.

The Origin of "Sterling."

The origin of the word sterling is very curious. Among the early minters of coin in Northern Europe were the dwellers of Eastern Germany. They were so skillful in their callings that numbers of them were invited to England to manufacture the metal money of the kingdom. These strangers were known as "Easterlings." After a time the word became "sterling," and in this abreviated form it has come to imply what is genuine in money, plate or character.

☞When you are disposed to criticise the way in which another man is doing some needed work, stop and ask yourself whether you ought not to keep silent until you are ready to undertake the work yourself, and until you are sure that you can do it more satisfactorily. It is a most ungracious business to sit back on your dignity and make light of those who are really striving with all their might to help forward a good cause.

☞It is said that George T. Smith's middling purifier has increased the wealth of the Northwest fully $500,000,000, and the American Millers' Association has awarded him a gold medal for bringing out the most important invention ever made in milling machinery.

☞A thing to be thankful for is that God so sifts our prayers that only the right ones are answered. If all the foolish ones were granted, we would have unspeakable sufferings.

David Reid.

Cor. of the New and Observer.]

OXFORD, N. C., Sept. 2, 1890.

In your issue of August 23 you copy an article from the Statesville Landmark recalling the State Electors in the campaign of 1844. A sketch of each one is given, with the exception of Mr. David Reid, of the 6th District, whose history seems to have passed from the annals of the State. Being in possession of a few facts of his life, they may prove not without interest to your readers. He was a lawyer and a statesman, the peer of any one of his colleagues; his abilities having gained for him, as you have cited, the distinguished place as a member of the Electoral College. He was appreciated and honored by the people of his native county, Moore, and by Cumberland and New Hanover as well. His father was David Reid, his mother, Mary Ramsay; his maternal grandfather, Thos. D. Reid; grandmother, Mary McKoy; his paternal grandfather, John Ramsay, and grandmother, —— Birdsong, whose Christian name is unknown to the writer. Most of the maternal relatives of Mr. David Reid were attracted West, mainly by the vast landed estates inherited from his grandfather, Gen. John Ramsay, covering large portions of Gibson, Madison, Shelby and other counties of Tennessee, including the site on which the city of Memphis is built. David Reid was the last of a large family to leave North Carolina, and removed to Tennessee and settled in Memphis, where he practiced his profession, and soon afterwards died. Many of his family still live, and are among the best and most successful citizens of the Cape Fear section. He was the uncle of the lamented Col. John Reid Murchison, of Cumberland, who commanded a N. C. regiment during the late war. He ranked high as a soldier, and gave up his life in his country's cause.

Another nephew, Col. Kenneth M. Murchison, although now residing in New York city, is closely identified with the interests of his native State.

The late Capt. David Reid Murchison inherited his uncle's name, and was eminently successful, and was known as one of the foremost business men of the State. He was for some years president of the C. C. R. R. Co., and at the time of his death was president of the Cotton Exchange of Wilmington, N. C.

The Reid name was handed down to the third generation, and is borne by David Reid Murchison Williams, a son of Mr. George W. Williams, of Wilmington, a promising cadet of the Horner School, in this place.

The people of the State appreciate the efforts of the News and Observer to keep alive the interests of Carolinians in the history of her distinguished sons.

The sketch above will be in the line of justice to one of her distinguished citizens, who, figuring prominently only half a century ago, had all but been consigned to oblivion. I. W. W.

A Brief Harangue on Talking Slang.

Harper's Young People.]

This "sermonette" is especially for you, dear girls. The advice could be put in three words—don't do it. Possibly there might come an occasion (say, once in a life time) when a good, round bit of the genuine article "slang" would prove funny. But to hear vulgar words used by a gentle girl is almost invariably shocking. I remember passing two girls in the street, and hearing one of them say, "I'll bet you a quarter." It gave me a shiver. And when a group of school-girls fill their conversation—as, alas, they often do—with one slang phrase after another, the effect on an outsider is painfully disagreeable.

The habit of talking slang grows rapidly. It is like repeating a bit of scandal. Have you never noticed if you say an unkind word against your neighbor, how quickly a chance comes to say another? And with just the same appalling ease a habit of using careless, coarse words increases. Weeds grow rapidly.

There is plenty of good, strong English to give expression to wit, drollery, indignation, or sympathy, without recourse to the phrases which belong to horse-jockeys, gamblers, tipplers and vagabonds. The street Arab picks up slang as he does the ends of old cigars from the gutter. Surely a well-bred girl is not on the same level in her speech and manner. Why should she use vulgar words any more than she would stain her hands?

There ought to be something akin to flowers in a fresh, young girl. She need not be prudish nor priggish. No one wishes her to say "prunes and prisms" to coax her lips into the proper curves. But refined and dainty in speech, as well as in dress, she surely ought to be. Won't you please think about it for five minutes, and see if you do not agree with me?

Snarlers.

New York Ledger.]

Ill-conditioned dogs do not all go upon four legs. Most of us have seen snarling curs upon two. If there is a hateful biped on the face of the earth it is your habitual snarler—the man who has reduced ill-nature to a system, and practices it methodically at all times and seasons.

These professors of the snarling art of course snarl at everybody and everything, but their especial targets are their families. They reverse the chemistry of the bee. Instead of extracting honey from the weeds of life, they contrive to extract poison from its honey. It has been said that "man never is, but always to be, blest;" but that's not the case with the snarler. He neither is nor can be blest. In fact, he won't be blest; but on the contrary is a curse to himself and to all who come in contact with him.

Oh! the wives that are snarled at! Vain are their efforts to please. All their winning ways are met with contumely, all their fond words choked in the utterance with snappish yelps of anger and contempt.

Only a Printer.

"He is only a printer!" was the sneering remark of a leader in the the circle of aristocracy—of the codfish quality.

Well, who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What was Prince Frederick William, who married the Princess Royal of England? He, too, was only a printer. Who was William Caxton, one of the fathers of literature? He was only a printer. Who were Geo. D. Prentiss, Charles Dickens, M. Thiers, Douglas Jerrold, Bayard Taylor, G. P. Morris, J. Gales, C. Richardson, N. P. Willis and Senators Dix, Cameron, Niles, Bigler and Postmaster General King? They, too, were all printers. What was Benjamin Franklin? Only a printer. Every one cannot be a printer; brains are necessary.

☞If you want a lovely odor in your rooms break off branches of the Norway spruce, and arrange them in a large jug well filled with water. In a few days tender, pale green branches feather out, soft and cool to the touch, and giving the delightful health-giving odor.

☞There is no law that can make a man honest when he wants to be a scoundrel.

South Carolina Convention.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 11.—The following ticket was nominated this morning at an early hour: Governor, B. R. Tillman, of Edgefield; Lieutenant Governor, F. B. Gary, of Abbeville; Secretary of State, T. E. Tindall, of Clarendon; Treasurer, W. T. C. Bates, of Orangeburg; Attorney General, Y. J. Pope, of Newberry; Superintendent of Education, W. D. Mayfield; Comptroller General, W. H. Ellerbee; Adjutant and Inspector General, H.S.Fairley.

The platform advocates the repeal of the internal revenue and national bank systems; denounces the Tariff and Force bills; demands the enactment of laws for the relief of the laboring people; demands the enactment by Congress of laws to prevent dealing in futures of agricultural products; demands Federal taxation of incomes of individuals and surplus of corporations; demands the abolition of the State board of agriculture, and that the matters now under its control be placed in the hands of the trustees of the Clemson Agricultural college; advocates liberal support to the South Carolina college at Columbia as a department of the University; demands rigid economy in public expenditures, the abolition of useless offices and the reduction of salaries and fees in all offices, both State and county; demands a constitutional convention to give the people an "organic law formed by our own people and enforcing these needed reforms; condemns any attempt, either by word, deed or unholy alliance with the enemy, to disrupt the Democratic party of this State. White supremacy is but the work of our civilization, and can only be secured by Democratic unity." The convention adjourned at 6.30 this morning.

The Deadly Single Instance.

Chicago Advance.]

How a single incident may become representative! General Schenck is popularly supposed to have spent the larger part of his evenings with Dukes and Duchesses, Marquises and Marchionesses, teaching them the great American game, and yet I believe the evidence is that it was only upon one evening, and only as a an accident of that evening, that the American Minister at the Court of St. James said a word as to the game of poker.

Andrew Johnson is commonly supposed to have been a drunkard. The common supposition had its origin in the fact that at the time of his inauguration he was intoxicated. He was; but it was the last as it was the first time. He was suffering from a serious and annoying disease. At the recommendation of a friend he took a strong dose of brandy just before the public exercises of the inauguration. The charges of his political enemies that he was drunk were true, but drinking was not his habit.

So a man, from a single incident, gains a reputation which is not pleasing. For the sake of keeping an appointment, he may drive a horse so hard as to produce lasting injuries; this incident may be the cause of a reputation that he delights in fast horses and is also cruel. Beware of suffering yourself to be the subject of a conspicuous and publicly known exceptional incident. Do not allow yourself to draw inferences from a single incident.

Tobacco as a Factor in Our Civilization.

From "Nature and Man in America," by Professor N. S. Saler, in September Scribner.]

The development of the American colonies, their rapid growth in the century preceding the American Revolution, depended in a large measure on a botanical accident—viz., on the introduction of tobacco into the commerce of the world. No contribution from newly-discovered lands has ever been so welcomed as this so-called noxious weed. No new faith has ever travelled so fast and far among men as the habit of smoking. In scarce a century from the first introduction of the plant in Europe, its use had spread to nearly half the peoples of the Old World. The eastern coast of America, from the Hudson southward to South Carolina, is peculiarly well suited for the growth of the tobacco-plant, and the rapid extension of the British colonies in America, which brought their population at the time of the Revolution to a point where they numbered about one-sixth part of the English people, was largely due to the commerce which rested upon the use of this plant.

The Sense of Smell.

New York Telegram.]

Smell is the most acute by far of the five human senses. Take an ounce of musk—most powerful of scents—and leave it where the atmosphere is still, open on a table, for a year. At the end of that time, having for full twelve months rendered odorous the whole air in its neighborhood, the most delicate scales cannot detect that it has lost a particle in weight. Yet the smell has been infinitely distributed, microscopic portions of the musk floating off and exciting impressions upon the nerve papillæ under the delicate lining of the nasal passages; for this is what smell means. The sense has grown almost rudimentary in human beings through want of necessity for its use under civilized conditions, but it is highly probable that the cave men had it quite as well developed as the sharpest nosed beasts.

"Mons Murem Parturit."

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 11.—In the county east of here considerable excitement has been caused by the appearance of smoke rising from the seven peaks of the Swallow Range of mountains. The smoke is a continuation through the day, and sometimes rises to the height of 350 feet. People who have visited the place declare that there is sulphur in abundance rising from the mountains, and that the mist of sulphurous gas, after rising to a certain height, forms into densely black smoke. The smoking peaks were noticed for the first time two years ago and continued two weeks. After that nothing more was observed until the 5th of last September, when it appeared again, continuing three weeks. It appeared for the third time about two weeks ago, and still continues.

A Richly Endowed College.

The most richly endowed college in the United States, it is claimed, is Columbia, of New York city. Its landed property in that city, received from the Trinity corporation in 1754 and from the State in 1814, affords a yearly income of $342,000. The total capital of the corporation is placed at $9,000,000. Harvard's endowments amount to $6,853,000. The New York Sun says: "Ninety-four of our colleges received in gifts during the past year the great sum of $3,624,579, and the total of their present endowments is $51,765,449."

The Biggest Check.

Once more a paragraph is on its summer rounds saying that the largest check ever drawn was one by the Peninsula and Oriental Steam Navigation Company for $6,250,000, and the next largest the Vanderbilt check for $5,600,000. Oh, no. Far back in the sixties, Leonard W. Jerome drew his check for $10,000,000 in payment of 50,000 shares of Pacific Mail stock at 200.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

It has been many years since a more significant election took place in this country than that by which Reed, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was returned to Congress by a largely increased majority from his district in Maine. To use the words of Denmark's distracted Prince Hamlet, "It is miching mallicho, and means mischief." In the ordinary condition of political parties in this country, reflecting men—even reflecting Republicans—would have seen so much of grave danger in the elevation to power of a man like Reed that his reelection would have been rendered very doubtful: he has received the most substantial endorsement possible in an augmented number of votes.

The attitude of the present administration, and the trend of policy of the Republican party in the last two Congresses, has been very remarkable, and has not failed to convince thoughtful citizens that the leaders stand ready to make it a revolutionary party (if it be not already that) for the sake of a continuance in power. A quarter of a century has not softened the bitterness of feeling toward the South; all the travail of reconstruction has brought forth nothing in behalf of a people who accepted the overthrow of an ideal scheme of government and the defeat of dearly-cherished hopes with a dignity and patience which should have at least won justice and commanded respect if they did not conciliate esteem and friendship. The most searching examination of the record of events which have marked the steady march of the party in power—from the President down to any petty official—will be rewarded by the discovery of not one single instance of generosity toward this great section of the federal union. Such has been the lapse of time since the close of the war that the children of the men who made up its armies have attained middle age; and yet to-day it is sought to lay the "mailed hand" upon the South.

A Northern Republican, to retain influence with his party, must be a Radical, and that Radicalism is all the more acceptable if it be deeply tinged with malevolence and sectional proscriptiveness. A disposition to infuse into the councils of the party anything like a moderate and catholic spirit inevitably consigns the mistaken reformer to obscurity, if it does not cover him with obloquy. Year after year once chosen leaders, men of ability and patriotic feeling, have been "bowled over," and relegated to private life, for no more heinous offence than an earnest effort to check Republicanism in its headlong career toward centralization.

If Northern Republicans, in dealing with constitutional questions and in shaping a national policy, have shown themselves incapable of rising to a worthier plane of thought and action than that of a wrangling, intolerant faction, in their care for the material interests of the country they have failed no less eggregiously. The United States have prospered not because of but in spite of the Republican party; and, great as have been the republic's development and increase of population, that prosperity would have been enhanced at least 100 per cent. during the past twenty-five years but for the obstructions placed in the way of its advancement by a Radical Senate and a Radical House of Representatives. With our more than 60,000,000 of inhabitants, we are a nation of a few very rich and many very poor people. With our immense extent of territory, vast natural wealth in timbers, minerals, fertile soil and water power, it is not extravagant to say that there should be a comfortable competence for every working-man; in every community in the land, with moderate fortunes for a large majority; and yet—notwithstanding American energy and push (for the American business talent is even an improvement on the generic Anglo-Saxon)—it is a lamentable fact that financial embarrassment and absolute poverty have become almost the normal conditions of the masses in this marvelously rich country.

Is it unfair that the responsibility for this state of affairs be charged to the party which demonetized silver, and thereby defrauded the bread-winner of a large percentage of his earnings as ruthlessly as if the foot-pad's hand had been thrust into his pocket? Which has befriended and fostered monopoly with remarkable consistency since the day when it took into its protecting arms the gigantic Pacific Railway fraud, and flaunted the enormity in the faces of the voters of both parties? Which, under the specious guise of patriotism, has lavished the money of the people by the most prodigal pension list that any people were ever called upon to pay? Which, professing its willingness to abolish the Internal revenue system at the proper time, has been utterly false to its pledges? Which, by its high tariff, absolutely imposes a tribute upon all consumers of 47 per cent. of their cost of living? Which, each successive Congress, makes one more stride toward centralization and oligarchy?

We have not yet quite lost faith in the people. We believe they will rise superior to bad leaders, and achieve the salvation of the country—and when they have awakened to a realization of this duty—farewell, party of monopoly!

Duplin Notes.

For the Observer.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 13, 1890.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The cessation of festivities, and the sober faces of our young people, suggest that they are now ready for another session of mental exercise and intellectual contest; and the full attendance upon the first day's exercises of the Kenansville High School is but an indication of the promptness and punctuality so characteristic of our Kenanville boys and girls.

In our notes of last week our imperfect knowledge of what our friends were enjoying in our absence caused us to omit the names of quite a number of summer visitors whose stay among us is remembered with pleasure, and whose return next summer will be anxiously awaited. Among those by whom we were thus honored are:

Mrs. Walter E. Faison and little daughter, of Washington City, who spent some time with her brothers, Messrs. J. E. and N. H. Sprunt, and with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Southerland, of Hickory.

Mrs. Staples, of Nashville, Tenn., who paid a visit to her mother, Mrs. A. T. Stanford.

Mrs. Dr. Geo. Kirby, of Goldsboro, the guest of Miss Annie Kenan.

Mrs. Ricaud and Miss Rosa Ricaud, of New Berne, who spent part of the summer with Mrs. Albert Farrior, a sister of Miss Rosa.

Miss Bland, of Teachey's, the guest of the family of Mr. H. C. Moore.

Miss Mary Bell Pigford, of Wilmington, the guest of Miss Mag Wallace.

Mrs. T. S. Watson, of Wilmington, who spent some time with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Watson, whose recent visit to Wilmington was cut short by sickness, necessitating the presence of her daughter, Miss Mary.

Mr. J. E. Sprunt and family left a short time ago for Dillon, S. C., where he fills the position of cotton buyer for the firm of Alex. Sprunt & Son, Wilmington, N. C.

Miss Irene Cooper has returned from Wilmington, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Woolvin, who accompanied her home, and who spent some time in our midst.

Mrs. H. Y. Knowles, of Mt. Olive, and Mrs. G. W. McMillan, of Whiteville, are among the arrivals this week. Mrs. Knowles is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. C. Broadhurst; Mrs. McMillan, her sisters, Misses Farrior.

Mr. B. F. Hall, of Wilmington, knowing what a pleasant place Kenansville is in which to spend the summer, selected it as a suitable place for his children to spend a month. The little boys, Lewis and John, with their sister Jessie, have returned to Wilmington. Miss Sue left Monday for Chapel Hill, where she will spend some time with her aunt, Mrs. Prof. Holmes. These young people have made many friends during their short stay, and we shall be glad to have them visit us often.

Good Advice to the Colored Race.

Extract from W. A. Guthrie's Card withdrawing from the Republican Party.]

A word to you, my colored Republican friends. I shall never cease to remember with gratitude your votes given to me on several occasions in the past, and no longer ago than the last election for a high and honorable position; but you have ordered by solemn resolution in a convention at Raleigh last week, composed of intelligent, educated, representative men of your own race, that I must leave the Republican party. You have resolved, if correctly reported, that your race alone is the Republican party in North Carolina and no white man, without any exception, can be trusted by you. You have by your action shown that you have no higher conception of the dignity and responsibility of American citizenship than to get office, and that none but your race should have the offices, so far as you could fill them by your votes. A few days thereafter you shook hands with the "Revenue Ring," and resolved with acclamation that the Lodge bill should be forced on the people.

If this suits you, then I know where you stand as a race. I joined the Republican party, and cast my first vote for it in 1868, to reconstruct the union on a basis allowing you all your political rights equal to my own, and I am content still that you should have them, but I am not willing for you to barter, with a few revenue officers, my own liberty, rights and privileges with yours. Mark my prediction: If you follow that crowd under your Lodge bill resolutions adopted in convention in Raleigh last week, you will soon find yourselves like Mr. Woody's official papers—"lost in the woods." They would barter you and your liberties away for their own political gain with as little remorse of conscience as the slave-driving speculator sold you and your ancestors and their wives and children as chattels thirty years ago, and they would eat up your liberties as citizens like a Dutchman eats cheese.

CONFIRMED.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

A BOON TO THE SICK.

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is endorsed by Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, pastor First Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., who says: "It is a great remedy." Rev. Sam P. Jones says: "I wish every poor suffering wife had access to that medicine." Thousands of others attest its virtues. Fifty gallons are drunk in Atlanta daily, where it is performing remarkable cures. It removes the cause of disease and builds up from the first dose. Send stamp for full particulars, certificates of wonderful cures, etc., to King's Royal Germetuer Co., Atlanta, Ga. IT CURES WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS. Price, $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. Can be sent by express C. O. D. if your druggist cannot supply you.

The cotton crop, with the fine weather, is "booming;" and with a late frost, will "set" the Southern farmers "up."

Weather Crop Bulletin.

During the week ending Saturday, Sept. 13, 1890, the temperature has been considerably above the normal, which has been favorable for the maturing of crops. The earlier part of the week was generally clear with but little rain, the latter part cloudy with frequent showers, not sufficient to do much injury except in a few counties as Richmond, Mecklenburg and Rowan.—Farmers are chiefly employed in picking cotton and curing the finest crop of tobacco produced in this State for many years. Fodder has been nearly all saved. Wheat land is being prepared, and the sowing of oats has commenced.

EASTERN DISTRICT.—The temperature has been above the average, and the rainfall below, except in a few Southern counties, as Pender and Brunswick. The weather has been generally favorable for saving fodder and picking cotton. Rust still reported in a few places.

CENTRAL DISTRICT.—Farmers are very busy curing tobacco and picking cotton, for which the weather has fallen in Richmond county, retarding the work there. Fodder is nearly all saved. Wheat land is being broken and oats sowed.

WESTERN DISTRICT.—Too much rain has fallen in some of the south-eastern counties of this district, Mecklenburg, Rowan, etc., damaging cotton to some extent. In other parts the weather has been very favorable for picking cotton, curing tobacco and saving fodder. Splendid crops of corn in this district.

DIED.

JORDAN—In this town, on the 16th inst., after a lingering illness of several weeks, EULUS WAYNE, son of Charles and Margaret Jordan, aged 2 years and 3 months. The remains were carried to Toisnot for interment.

FAIRCLOTH—On the 13th inst., aged 75 years and 10 months, Mrs. ELIZA FAIRCLOTH, beloved wife of S. F. Faircloth. She was a member of the Baptist church—pious and devout—for many years. The funeral services took place from her late residence on Cool Spring street on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Wm. Sholar, assisted by Rev. T. P. Barclay.

TALLEY—In this town, on the 12th inst., of consumption, Mr. THOS. S. TALLEY, aged 25 years, son of Mr. M. V'B. Talley. There is, of course, something which appeals powerfully to the tender feelings of our nature in the death of the young man, untimely cut off, in the very heyday of his existence, and before he had time to develop that usefulness for which his Creator intended him. The deceased was a young man of good character, of lovable traits, and leaves many friends bereaved by his loss.

ROBESON.—September 5th, 1890, LIZZIE, infant daughter of Capt. W. A. and Mrs. Sallie Robeson.

This is the record in the world's language. But little "Dot" is not dead. The Master saw that she was too tender a flower for this bleak world, and he sent his gardener to transplant her to his garden above. There, under his loving eye, ministered to by the angels, her pure life shall unfold and bloom unsoiled by any earth-stain. Knowing naught of sin or sorrow, forever shall Heaven's radiance be on her brow, Heaven's purity in her soul.

What a privilege to have a child trained in Heaven's nursery, with Heavenly beings for her earliest, only, companions, and Jesus, the Good Shepherd, her loving teacher. Weep not, fond parents, it is well with the child. She cannot come to you, but you can go to her. B.

Stein, Block & Co.

This is a house but little known in this State, but any honest clothing dealer will tell you that their goods equal any custom work of the best Merchant Tailors. Their clothing is all tailor-made and handsomely trimmed, and has heretofore been considered too expensive for this market. Our faith in the good judgment of our people, which recognizes the principle of economy in buying "the best" has induced us to handle Stein, Block & Co.'s line of "NOVELTIES FOR YOUNG MEN."

Young men who have been accustomed to have suits made to measure, are especially asked to see these goods before placing their orders for the Fall and Winter.

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION.

NORTH CAROLINA, } Office
CUMBERLAND COUNTY. } Clerk Superior Court.

Notice is hereby given of the incorporation of "The Carolina Lumber and Transportation Company;" that the names of the incorporators are: N. G. Wade, A. H. Slocomb, S C. Rankin and A. E. Rankin and such others as they may associate with them; that the principal place of business and where the principal office is to be located is Fayetteville, N. C., and its general purpose and business is as follows, viz: To deal in Lumber and Timber of all kinds; and to cut, manufacture and prepare the same for market; to buy, lease and acquire titles, and hold land and rights of working timber thereon; to own and operate mills, machines and appliances of all kinds for preparing timber and lumber for market; and to build, equip and operate tramways with wooden, steel or iron rails for transportation, and also to utilize water-streams when practicable; and generally to own and utilize all such real estate and personal property as the corporation may acquire in the conduct of its business, and to do all things necessary and incident to the said business; that the duration of the corporation shall be thirty years; the amount of the proposed capital stock is ten thousand dollars, with privilege of increasing same to fifty thousand dollars; said capital stock is divided into shares of one hundred dollars each. The stockholders of said corporation are not to be held individually liable for the debts or liabilities of the corporation. CHAS. G. CAIN, C. S C.

DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER

One fact is worth a thousand arguments, and Dr. King's Royal Germetuer demonstrates every day that it is making more cures than any other medical preparation in the world.

A daughter of Mr. C. Jordan, of Atlanta, was cured of a serious case of stomach and bowel troubles.

Mr. N. T. Johnson, of Atlanta, was cured of a long continued and severe case of catarrh which was sapping his life away.

Mrs. M. Farmer, of West End, Atlanta, was completely cured of a ten years' case of inflammatory rheumatism.

Rev. A. B. Vaughn, Canton, Ga., was cured of facial neuralgia, also of a liver and kidney trouble of many years standing.

Mrs. T. S. Pelot, of Atlanta, had been an invalid 14 years, but Germetuer cured her.

Mrs. W. F. Herndon, Atlanta, Ga., suffered with acute catarrh. One bottle of Germetuer freed her from this dreadful disease.

A daughter of F. T. Brosius, of Atlanta, had tried every known remedy for aggravated dyspepsia. Two bottles of Germetuer cured her.

Mr. Lewis Bennett, Atlanta, Ga., had been afflicted with indigestion for 20 years, complicated with diarrhœa. Three-fourths of a bottle cured him sound and well.

Thousands of voluntary certificates testify to the remarkable curative virtues of Royal Germetuer. It builds up at once, wooes "nature's soft nurse"—refreshing sleep, stimulates the appetite, aids digestion, soothes the nerves and insures good health. For weak women, clerks, bookkeepers, milliners, stenographers, housewives, etc., it is the nonpareil of all remedies. As a blood purifier and an invigorating tonic it is without a rival. It is as pleasant to take as lemonade without sugar; is a scientific discovery, and cures diseases by removing the cause. Price, $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which will make one gallon of medicine, as per accompanying directions. Send stamp for full particulars, wonderful cures, etc.

For sale by druggists and by KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Prospectus of the Fayetteville Gaded School.

The next session of the above school will begin on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15th, 1890, at the Donaldson Academy buildings, and will be conducted on same plan as has proven so successful for the past year. Children of parents living in Cross Creek district will be received in all the common school grades free.

Children of parents outside of Cross Creek will be required to pay fifteen dollars tuition for any of the common school grades. Patrons of the higher or Latin grades will be required, before receiving certificates of scholarship, which entitle their children to enter school, to give their notes as heretofore for tuition at the following rates

For 1st Latin grade twenty dollars.
For 2nd Latin grade twenty-five dollars.
For 3rd Latin grade twenty-five dollars.
For 4th Latin grade thirty dollars.

If sufficient encouragement is offered the school will be advanced one grade higher at tuition of thirty-five dollars, which will enable patrons to keep their sons and daughters at home for another year, and thereby save the hundreds of dollars which education costs in other schools at other places.

All patrons are asked to come forward at once and make the necessary arrangements with the Executive Committee and take their certificates of scholarship.

The Trustees desire to elect as soon as possible a full corps of teachers.

Delay in applying for certificates leaves trustees, teachers and all concerned in embarrassing doubt and uncertainty. We appeal to our patrons not to put off this matter to the last moment.

Again pointing with pride to our past record and good work, we ask for generous, hearty and prompt support.

Address.

We are requested to announce that Mr. J. H. Myrover, of the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER, will deliver an address before the Ladies' Aid Society of Red Springs, on Friday evening, 26th inst.—the proceeds to be devoted to the benevolent purposes of the Presbyterian church of that place.

The Cotton Market.

Despite the heavy rains of last week and the week preceding, there is marked activity in the cotton market. The receipts to date for the week since September 10th have been 903 bales against about 250 at same time last year. The demand continues steady from the mills, and the price is firm at 9¼ to 9¾.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Gospel services were held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association last Sunday afternoon, conducted by Dr. J. W. McNeill, assisted by Mr. J. M. Lamb. The attendance, considering the threatening weather, was good, and the exercises were very interesting.

A similar meeting will be held next Sunday, conducted by Mr. J. M. Lamb.

An Error in an Advertisement.

On the 7th column of the 1st page is an advertisement, "Sheriff's Sale," the insertion of which is an error. Sheriff Smith came in on Monday, and made settlement of the advertisement, and it was not discovered until he had left the office that the notice had been placed on the "outside" (which is worked on Monday), and the whole edition had been run off.

Fight on the Highway.

Two young men, Pate and McLeod, who were in the city last Saturday, became engaged in a bitter altercation. On the way home (all the persons concerned living south-east of town) the quarrel was renewed—another one of the McLeods and a young Carver becoming involved—which culminated in a fight, in which both Carver and one of the McLeods were badly cut with knives.

The Athenæum Club.

The regular meeting of the "Athenæum Club" will be held this evening. A very attractive programme of exercises has been arranged, comprising a debate, with a very interesting subject, essays, etc., and it is hoped that all the members will attend.

The nights are lengthening now, and the time has come to make a gratifying success of this excellent literary organization.

Attacked on the Road.

Dick Lovett, a well-known colored man, was set upon and badly beaten, near the Carver place on the old Western Plank Road, by a negro named Farmer, last Saturday evening. His injuries are serious. Both in this case and that on the Wilmington road, reported elsewhere, Sheriff Smith had his officers out investigating the matter immediately, and went in person to ascertain the facts in the Lovett case, as it had been reported that the latter was fatally wounded.

Graded School.

The Fayetteville Graded School opened Monday with two hundred and twenty-five pupils answering to the roll-call, compared with about two hundred and fifteen last year. Superintendent McIver feels highly elated over the outlook for this session, and expects the number soon to reach four hundred. The OBSERVER feels a warm interest in the success of the school, and would again urge our people to put forth every effort to make this session, 90—91, surpass in many respects those of the past.

Mr. Walter Watson and family returned last Friday from Carolina Beach, after a stay of one month. They enjoyed their brief experience of sea-side life, took full advantage of the incomparable surf-bathing, and are all back home, we are glad to know, in good health.

Lilly—MacRae.

A marriage—which had been long anticipated with more than ordinary interest by the large number of friends interested in the happiness of both bride and groom—was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal Church yesterday (Wednesday morning) at 8:30, in the union of Mr. E. J. Lilly to Miss Lizzie MacRae, eldest daughter of Judge Jas. C. MacRae—the former one of the most intellectually cultured and polished men in the society of Fayetteville, and Miss MacRae gifted, accomplished and lovely in charms of person and graces of mind and heart. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Thos. Atkinson, and the services were characterized by several beautiful features of the old English Church fashion: the grouping of lighted candles above the altar, and the ringing of the wedding bells before and after the tying of the nuptial knot. The decorations of flowers were very handsome. There were no grooms, the ushers—Messrs. Douglas Haigh, E. Kyle, S. H. MacRae and Henry Marsh, in black cutaways, with light pantaloons—attending the bridemaids, in the following order: Miss Lilly Rose, Miss Hester Calvert, Miss Mary MacRae, Miss Margaret Hinsdale, whose costumes were white Henriette cloth, white Gaines borough leghorn hats, and wreaths of chrysanthemums, white shoes and white gloves—bouquets of maiden-hair ferns. The bride's traveling suit was of brown English check, braid-trimmed, a tailor-made suit, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Dr. H. W. Lilly was best man, and the order in coming out of the church was as follows: Bride and groom; Judge MacRae and Dr. H. W. Lilly; Miss Mary MacRae and Mr. H. Marsh; Miss Lilly Rose and Mr. S. H. MacRae; Miss M. Hinsdale and Mr. D. Haigh; Miss Hester Calvert and Mr. E. Kyle.

The echoes of the wedding bells are but fleeting, the perfume of the orange blossoms are as evanescent as a child's dream; but the wedded pair go out into life with wishes for happiness which will accompany them through all time's changes and vicissitudes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilly departed on the Atlantic Coast Line R. R. for a Northern tour.

A Worthy Young Man Complimented.

Commenting upon his popularity among the traveling public and fitness for the hotel business, the Charlotte News thus speaks of Mr. E. W. Overbaugh:

Mr. Overbaugh, who has been connected with the Central Hotel in this city for some time past, left this morning for Fayetteville, where he takes charge of the Overbaugh House. This hotel was kept by Mr. Overbaugh's father up to the time of his death, a few weeks ago. Mr. Overbaugh made his debut in the hotel business in Charlotte five years ago, as a clerk in the Belmont Hotel; and, when Messrs. Eccles & Bryan resumed charge of the Central Mr. Overbaugh remained with them. He was day-clerk at the Central, and his polite and obliging disposition made him popular with all the patrons of that house. The training which he received while in the employ of Messrs. Eccles & Bryan will stand him in good stead, and greatly aid him in making the Overbaugh House a more popular hotel than ever. His Charlotte friends wish him all kinds of good luck.

The Dallas Eagle on Mr. Fife.

A recent issue of the Dallas Eagle contains a very violent attack on Mr. W. P. Fife, the Evangelist:—we think we may call it violent, as it deals in personalities. We do not know the cause of quarrel of the Eagle with Mr. Fife—its grievances may be many. So far as we are concerned, while we sympathize with Mr. Fife as a regenerated Christian (we believe him to be that), we utterly fail to put any trust in his methods of conversion. But what we commenced to say was this: the Dallas Eagle is opposing its puny strength to a very remarkable man. Evangelist Fife need neither ask for the commendation nor fear the harsh criticism of the press—he has gone beyond that. If he lives he is obliged to do a great work. May good judgment direct it for good!

After Lo! These Many Years.

The recent purchase by the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway of two powerful freight engines emphasizes the fact that at least the industrial world cherishes a grateful appreciation of the merits of "good and faithful servants." The Baldwin Locomotive Works sent out in charge of these engines, to see that they were turned over to the company in complete running order, Mr. George Johnson, who made a visit to Fayetteville for the same purpose 33 years ago, when the first engine, the Geo. McNeill (God rest the soul of the good man in whose honor it was named!), was put on the Western R. R. Mr. Johnson is still a hale, active, skilled artisan.

Democratic Club Meeting.

Every Democrat of Cross Creek township is requested to meet at the Market House on Friday night (to-morrow) at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of forming a Young Men's Democratic Club or reorganizing the one of the last campaign. This club will send delegates to the Y. M. D. C. meeting at Raleigh on September 24th and 25th, and it is very important that the club organize at once. Let every Democrat attend. Remember to-morrow night is the time, and the "old town bell" will ring in clarion tones, calling you to your duty as good citizens.

Improvements.

Mrs. Kate McNeill's residence on upper Hay street has recently had great improvements made—remodeling in the interior, with stuccoing on the exterior, while Mrs. Kate Utley's school-room has been enlarged to accommodate the increased patronage which she and Miss Chamberlain so richly deserve in their painstaking efforts to conduct one of the best private schools in the State.

Mr. D. H. Ray is having handsomely painted his dwelling-house on the corner of Old and Anderson streets, now occupied by Mr. W. G. Hall.

Mr. W. G. Clark has put a new coat of paint, as well as interior improvements, on his store on upper Hay street—Mr. D. J. Wilson, Jr., manager.

The old McKethan family mansion on Person street has been put in thorough order by remodeling, repairs, etc., and is now more than ever one of the most comfortable and pleasant residences in town.

Capt. Alex. Campbell, of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, is making arrangements for building a commodious dwelling on Rowan street, adjoining his father's place—a pleasant situation and one of the most desirable neighborhoods in the city.

Mr. W. N. Williams has his architect's plan for the erection of a beautiful and convenient building on the McLaurin lot on Rowan street. When completed, it will be a very attractive residence.

Maj. Broadfoot's correct taste has been exercised in the laying out of many desirable building lots on the old arsenal grounds.

Mr. Hollingsworth is preparing to build a dwelling adjoining that of Mr. Duncan Campbell.

Mr. Jno. M. Rose has disposed of his place two miles south-west of Fayetteville, and will build on a lot on Gillespie street, where his material is already being received. It must, of course, cause a pang of regret to every member of the family to give up the homestead endeared by so many fond associations, but they have decided that a residence in town will be more convenient and desirable.

Honors to a True Man.

The people of Fayetteville feel a keen interest in everything tending to honor and perpetuate the memory of the late Col. L. C. Jones—formerly Chief Engineer and then President of the Western Railroad and at the time of his death General Superintendent of the Carolina Central Railway—and no man has for many years severed his intimate business and social relations with our community whose loss was more deeply deplored than that of Col. L. C. Jones. Our people loved him; they sorrowed for themselves and in deep sympathy with his bereaved family at his death, and they will read with interest the following description, from the Sanford Express, of the monument placed over his grave by the officers and employes of the Carolina Central Railway:

The shaft is about eighteen feet high, and is made of gray granite from Iredell county. It is in three sections and stands on a granite pedestal. The body of the shaft if quadrangular, with four smoothly polished sides. The front inscription is "Leonidas Campbell Jones." The inscriptions on the other sides are, "True to his God, his fellow-man and himself;" "A tribute from the officers and employes of the C. C. railroad to their late Superintendent." The monument is a handsome and elegant structure, and is worthy of the devotion of the railroad employes to their superintendent and worthy of the memory of the noble man whose earthly remains lie beneath it and over which it will stand as a sentinel for ages.

A Lamentable Casualty.

On Friday morning last Mr. John G. Grady, son of Mr. J. R. Grady, of Harnett county, was accidentally killed at the saw mill of his brother, Mr. D. McD. Grady, at Old Ferry on the Cape Fear river, about 9 miles below Fayetteville. Stepping hurriedly across the driving belt to pick up a handspike for the purpose of assisting in lifting a heavy piece of timber, he incautiously entangled his foot with the belt, and was whirled over with fearful force and velocity, striking his head against the floor; and, although he survived about two hours, he never regained consciousness. He had been with his brother at the mill only about 8 or 10 days.

The deceased was about 22 years of age—a bright, promising life blighted in an instant; the stalwart, exultant strength of bouyant young manhood reduced to nothingness in the twinkling of an eye by a stroke of mysterious Providence. But his bereaved father and brother may have comfort in their affliction; the departed mother, by whose side his remains were laid at Summerville, may greet him in a life unmarred by sorrow—for he was an estimable young man, full of generous impulses, of good character, and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

The funeral services were conducted at Summerville on Saturday afternoon last by Rev. Dr. N. McKay, who paid an eloquent tribute to his memory.

Tour of Inspection.

Col. J. B. Starr, Col. J. A. Pemberton, Maj. A. M. Campbell, and Capt. N. W. Ray, of Fayetteville; Maj. J. M. Vaugh, of Madison; and Mr. W. E. Bevill, of Greensboro—the committee appointed at the last stockholders' meeting of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway to inspect that line of road, inclusive of its branches—performed that duty last week, having been tendered the use of his private car by Col. Julius A Gray, who accompanied them. Mr. R. P. Gray (who has just returned from a journey in Europe and the East) was also of the party.

It goes without saying that the trip over the line was as pleasant as it could possibly be, while the skilled engineering and careful management of the company make it certain that the committee officially found everything to commend in the condition of the road-bed and equipments.

The very high character of the members of the committee forbids our throwing any "cloud on their title" as impartial judges in the execution of the task assigned to them; but, with Col. Gray as host, and with "Napoleon" as chef de cuisine—well, who can wonder if the committee saw things couleur de rose?

A Blaze on Upper Hay Street.

On Monday evening at about 8:30 o'clock, a fire occurred in the "Brick Row" on upper Hay Street, destroying the east corner double store, owned by Mr. R. B. Lutterloh, and occupied by Messrs. Monroe and Tisdale—insured for $700. The building adjoining, owned by Mr. T. S. Lutterloh, was badly damaged. More than one experience by fire has proven that the old "Brick Row" is hard to "down;" it goes only piece by piece and brick by brick, and we almost admire the pluck with which this "landmark" of past days of commercial prosperity struggles against consignment to the ash-heap of oblivion. The fire on Monday night pointed one lesson unmistakably: that we have, for its facilities, as efficient a fire department as there is in the State. The work of the Chicora Steam Fire Engine Company was far removed from its base of water supply, and a former experienced fire warden of Fayetteville, Mr. Walter Watson, expressed to us his opinion that if the engine could have been promptly supplied the fire would have been extinguished in less that thirty minutes—that he never saw better work. Two prominent insurance men—without making invidious distinctions where the whole force merits commendation—expressed the opinion that no better men to command at big fires could be chosen than Maj. A. A. McKethan and Capt. J. D. McNeill. We have repeatedly endeavored to impress upon the community the bare justice of giving to the fire department all the aid and encouragement possible. We look upon it as second in importance to no organization in the community, and we would rejoice to see it put upon the best possible footing, with uniforms for all the men, etc. A little systematic effort would accomplish it.

Admirable Management.

For many days the trains of the Richmond & Danville R. R.—one of the most important trunk lines running north and south—have been, both passengers and freight, running from Greensboro over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway to Sanford—thence via the R. & A. A. L. and the C. C. R. R. to Charlotte. We cannot imagine how a better opportunity could have been vouchsafed for testing the excellent management of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway. Notwithstanding this extraordinary demand upon the capacity of the officials, and upon their ability to keep their own freight and passenger schedules clear and uninterrupted, they have been enabled to afford all the accommodation desired to the traffic of the Richmond & Danville R. R., while their own business has gone on smoothly—without a hitch—almost without any delay of trains. It should be remembered, too, that this call upon them is made in the very vortex of a busy season, when their freighting business both north and south is immense. Truly the people begin to realize now that they can depend on President Gray, Capt. Fry and the whole Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. in any emergency.

Appreciated Abroad.

The Washington Gazette, one of the most entertaining papers in the State, is publishing paragraphic sketches of the Democratic candidates for the next General Assembly, and has the following to say of the nominees of Cumberland county:

Cumberland county can always be relied upon. She is true, she is patriotic. No better evidence of the good judgment of her Democracy do we wish than this: She has cordially renominated for the General Assembly the same ticket that was elected last session—Col. Thos. H. Sutton and A. D. McGill, Esq.

Col. Sutton was one of the best talkers in the House, and was full of business all the time. He was a leader on the Democratic side, and especially was he the friend of the farmer and the working-man. He was always on their side, and received a handsome testimonial from them at the close of the sesssion. This will be his third consecutive term of service. He served as Speaker pro tem., and showed himself well-fitted for the position.

Mr. McGill is nominated for the second time. He was a watchful and energetic member. More than once his voice was heard for his constituents, and they can say: "Well done, good and faithful servant," and make no mistake. Mr. McGill is a clever gentleman, and no better man could have been selected from the Democracy of Cumberland. A big majority will roll up for these two men.

Concert al Fresco.

Those who, attracted by the pleasant evening (and waiting for the fire), were strolling about the streets on Monday evening, found themselves somewhat compensated for the failure of the McNish Comedy Company to put in appearance by an open-air concert on Market Square.

A peripatetic "king of pain" drew up his wagon, lighted his torches, set the organ a-going, and "sailed in." He was no dapper Caucasian, with side-whiskers, blocked silk hat and metal watch-chain, but a black monarch of regal build—as stalwart as if he had just been transported from "Afric's burning sands," and had put on a suit of broadcloth for appearance's sake. His companion and presumptive consort, the "queen of pain," was less robust of stature and less dusky of hue, but she had a compass of voice requisite for a round dozen of females. The medicine was a dread mystery which the reporter dared not penetrate, the eloquence of the vendor in disposing of his quack wares smacked of originality, the music was real music, and the broad, genuine humor interspersed through the whole performance was, perhaps, the best of all.

Delayed by Accident.

Mr. Frank McNish and his Comedy Company failed to perform here last Monday night, owing to quite a serious accident to Mr. McNish during a performance at Charleston, S. C. We know nothing of the McNish Company. The Norfolk Virginian, a paper of character and standing, speaks of its performance in terms of severe condemnation. We cannot help being of the opinion that a good troupe, for public entertainment, would naturally seek an introduction into a community through that community's newspaper, and that its failure to do so throws a cloud upon its claim to patronage.

Religious Notes.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning, and that of the Hay Street Methodist church on Sunday evening, were deeply gratified and greatly edified at the scholarly and polished sermons to which they had an opportunity of listening from Rev. Jno. M. Rose, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Greenville, S. C. Mr. Rose is yet a young man, and a strong man—a close student and pulpit orator of no mean powers. He "wears" as well as any man we ever heard on the rostrum: an infallible test of the capacity for usefulness of a public teacher and preacher.

In the 1st Baptist church on Sunday morning and evening good congregations had the pleasure of hearing Rev. Wm. Sholar, formerly residing here, and now stationed at Hamilton, N. Y. Mr. Sholar's discourses evinced not only the polish and rhetorical finish of the pleasant speaker but the erudition of the scholar, the range of thought and aptness of analysis and comparison of a well-read student, with the solidity and simplicity of a man of brain and ability. God giving him health and strength, he has before him an honored career.

Ducant—Orrell.

We extract the following from the Roanoke (Va.) Herald. Miss Orrell is a granddaughter of the lamented Mrs. M. Banks, whose memory is enshrined in the hearts of our people, and for whose sake alone Fayetteville readers of the OBSERVER will wish the new-wedded pair all possible happiness:

A few intimate friends gathered last evening at the residence of Mr. C. B. Orrell, of the Herald, to witness the marriage of his sister, Miss Maggie Orrell, of Fayetteville, N. C., to Mr. Frank M. Ducant, formerly of South Carolina, but now of Wilmington, Del.

The sacred, solemn rite was performed in the most impressive manner by Rev. W. C. Campbell, and at its conclusion the manly husband and the fair young bride were the recipients of congratulations whose heartiness proved their sincerity. An inviting collation was participated in by all present, and the occasion passed off in the most agreeable manner. The youthful couple will make their future home in Wilmington, Del., for which place they will shortly leave, bearing with them the fondest and warmest wishes here and elsewhere for a life of uninterrupted bliss.

Sanitary.

We especially urge upon householders and property-owners the vital importance of looking to the sanitary condition of their premises just at this season of the year, when all classes of our people are peculiarly liable to febrile disorders. Insist upon cleanliness. See that your yards are in good condition. Cut down old weeds. Allow no offal or refuse matter to stand. A coat of whitewashing should be given to all the "living" rooms, and it would not be amiss to whitewash the trees about the grounds, say to the height of 10 feet.

Democrats, Attention!

For the Observer.]

The State Association of Young Men's Democratic Clubs will have a grand rally at Raleigh on September 24th and 25th.

Senators Vance, Ransom, all the Congressional nominees and other distinguished speakers of national reputation will address the gathering.

The Democrats of every neighborhood are requested to meet at once and organize clubs and appoint delegates to attend.

Any information desired will be furnished by the undersigned.

These clubs are an important factor in the success of the party, and it is hoped that many clubs will be formed in the county.

The railroads give rates at one fare for the round trip.

Any good Democrat is eligible to membership

The same old enemy is fighting us, and we must organize to preserve good government, and to "insure equal rights to all men, special privileges to none."

Personal Pencilings.

Mr. Peter McQueen, of Red Springs, visited Fayetteville last Tuesday.

Col. T. W. Devane, of Wade, was in town on business day before yesterday.

Miss Nannie Rankin is visiting relatives and friends in Greensboro and Guilford county.

Mr. Wm. Prior, proprietor of the Red Springs Hotel, visited Fayetteville last Tuesday.

Mrs. Jno. W. Hinsdale, of Raleigh, came down to attend the marriage of Miss Lizzie MacRae.

Miss Margaret Hinsdale, of Raleigh, is paying a visit to her friends and relatives on Haymount.

Mr. Sam'l H. McRae, engaged in civil engineering on roads in Tennessee, with headquarters at Knoxville, is visiting Fayetteville.

His Honor Judge MacRae was here this week, to take a loving father's part in the solemnization of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Lizzie.

Capt. J. W. Fry, General Manager of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., passed through the city Monday en route to Wilmington, in his private car.

Mr. Q. K. Nimocks and bride have returned to the city from an extended bridal tour, where they were royally welcomed by their hosts of friends in this city.

Miss Bertie Watson has returned home from Carolina Beach. Her hosts of friends and admirers will be delighted to read these few lines in the "Personal Pencilings," as, of course, this is their first intimation of her getting back home.

We were glad to receive a pleasant call from Mr. Calvin W. McKay, now residing at Marion, S. C. Mr. McKay is "to the manner born," and has been spending a few days very pleasantly at his old home. He finds the changes and improvements in and around Fayetteville great and almost bewildering.

Mrs. A. H. Slocomb, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lillie, returned some days ago from a very extensive and interesting trip out West, in which she nearly crossed this great continent to the "Golden Coast," visiting most of the large cities of that section of the Union, and taking in her way the Yellowstone Park, Valley of the Yosemite, etc.

ABIDE IN ME.

W. H. THORNE.

I know not if the moon will ever rise
When my poor tired heart will rest in peace in Thee;
When all the voices of the earth and skies,
And all the music of the murmuring sea
Shall ever come to me
As love's own melody.

There have been moments, beautiful as day,
When, touched by silver light, the constant stars
Have faded into heaven's blue away,
And, clothed with roseate light, the scars
Of sin and death and night
Have changed to spotless white.

So, so the magic of Thy kindly hand
Works wonders still in every land and sea,
And cloud and wreck shall not forever stand
Between my trust in Thy dear love and Thee;
For e'en through death I see
Thy love's own destiny.

All that the Father gives will come to me;
What I have lost His angels still will find,
And through the changes of life's stormy sea
Love's hidden treasures round my temples bind;
So, so, abide in me,
And I, aye, in Thee.

Farm and Garden Notes.

Avoid waste in garnering grain.

Sharp tools save time and labor.

Straighten up the sagging gates.

Lead and direct your field force.

A successful breeder must be a good feeder.

Assort well and pack neatly all fruit for marketing.

Do not let any weeds go to seed around your house or barn.

Fix your watering place so that the animals cannot foul it.

The medium weight animal usually returns the most profit.

Large growing trees should not be planted in small yards.

Examine your lambs. If infested with ticks, give them a dip.

It is poor business to grow sheep that do not shear a paying fleece.

It is important that the corn crib be cleaned out and fumigated so as to destroy insects.

Wire screens in the stable windows to keep out insects will enable tired horses to rest better at night.

Having begun fruit growing, stick to it. It is not a business to be picked up one day and dropped the next.

If you are going to save any herbs, cut them just before full bloom, tie in small bundles and dry in the shade.

If possible get into that line of farming which you like. You will be more likely to succeed than with one that is distasteful to you.

Be sure to provide your calves with a cool, shady place in which to escape from the flies. It will save flesh, and put money into your pocket.

Keep alfalfa closely cropped if the weeds are growing among it. In this manner the weeds will be killed, while the alfalfa becomes stronger.

The cost of a bushel of grain or a pound of butter on one farm is no guide to the cost of the same on another—so much depends upon conditions.

Making Poultry Pay.

American Agriculturist.]

There are people who make poultry pay largely and others who do not. Experience has taught that there is no legitimate business which pays better, but it must be conducted with care and skill. The lack of these is why nine-tenths of our farmers do not make it a success. A farmer who keeps a strict ledger account of all the returns and expenditures from his poultry is an exception. Many keep no account at all. Such are the ones who cry "poultry don't pay." Lack of experience, patience, system and understanding of the amount of work connected with poultry raising tells the reason of their failure. Is it not true?

The Cochin is short-legged, flat-bodied and heavily-feathered. The Langsham, so often mistaken by inexperienced persons for Cochins, is long, feather-legged, possessing an erect carriage. In other points the greatest difference is noticeable. The Cochin is sluggish in action and spirit, the Langsham active and nervous. The Cochin has coarse yellow flesh, the Langsham pure creamy white and abundance of it. Taking a comparison of the two breeds, we would consider the Cochin more of a fancy or ornamental variety; the Langsham is in every way useful. I admire the Cochin fowl, yet my preference for utility is with the Langsham. For those who have never kept Langshams and wish to add a useful breed I can recommend them.

How to Test a Horse.

New York Tribune.]

If you find your horse's disposition will do, you must next try his powers. Get to ascertain the capacity of the lungs. Unless these are sound and capacious the best legs will not carry him fast. On a good level road or on an uphill slope, and without much load either on him or behind him, get him to trot a mile in five minutes. Then get down and watch his breathing. See if the nostrils easily open quite wide enough for their work. Listen at the windpipe, and take care there is no sign of wheezing there. Look at the flanks and see if they are working hard, or if they quiet down as they do directly after the horse stops. Especially notice if their working is regular, and with no spasmodic effort to expel the wind. Any sign of such uncomfortable action should be a fatal objection to any horse, and your trial need proceed no further.

Descendants of Great Men.

It is a singular fact that great men seldom leave direct descendants. Napoleon, Wellington, Washington, all prove this rule. Shakspeare left only two daughters, whose children died without issue. Probably the nearest relative to the great poet now living is one Thomas Hart, a resident of Australia, who is said to be the eighth in descent from Shakspeare's sister Joan. Walter Scott's line ended with the second or third generation.

☞Those who advocate spelling reform in the English language argue that one letter out of every seven used according to the present practice is absolutely useless.

☞The aim of all intellectual training for the mass of the people should be to cultivate common sense.

JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE

NOLANDINE!

The Great Virginia Vegetable Alterative,

BLOOD PURIFIER AND RENOVATOR

—OF THE—

HUMAN SYSTEM!

Has been used most successfully in the following Diseases, as the Certificates below will attest:

For Liver Complaint, Jaundice and Bilious Derangement. In Mercurial, Blood Poison, Scrofulous and all Eruptive Diseases, Costiveness, Indigestion Flatulence, Periodical Sick Headache and Female Complaints.

READ THE CERTIFICATES.

From Virginia Medical Monthly (September number, 1889) Landon B. Edwards, M. D., editor and proprietor, Richmond:

"THE NOLANDINE COMPANY, of Richmond, Va., begin an advertisement in this issue of preparations which have received the highest kind of professional endorsements for the cure of chills and fever, functional liver troubles, etc. The virtues of the drugs named seem to rest in the special manner of their combination. During a recent visit to the laboratory we were courteously shown every detail of the manufacture."

I have used your vegetable preparation, "NOLANDINE," and find it a valuable agent in the treatment of functional diseases of the liver. Its action on that organ and all secreting glands is equal to that of calomel, and to my mind, the only yet discovered substitute for this time-honored remedy. It is, furthermore, entirely free from constitutional effects too often observed from the use of mercurials; and, in many cases, where mercurials have been incautiously administered, I have witnessed the beneficial results of "NOLANDINE," in eliminating and modifying the most distressing after symptoms. I will add, in regard to your Fever and Ague Preparation, that I prescribed it for my mother, who had been a sufferer from chills and fever for twelve months. She had taken quinine until it had ceased to have any effect on her. One-half bottle of my NOLANDINE for chills and fever relieved her entirely of the chills and restored her to good health.

I cheerfully recommend a trial of NOLANDINE to the profession, believing that it will stand their test

Very truly yours. A. TRENT CLARKE, M. D.

The very high character of the testimonials attesting the merits of your vegetable preparation, NOLANDINE, induced me to make a test of your NOLANDINE proper in a very desperate case of Hydrothrax [dropsy of the chest], combined with Ascities [dropsy of abdomen]. The usual remedies known to our profession had been most skilfully administered without producing anticipated effects. The disease yielded to the action of your NOLANDINE. I very gratefully state that my patient is now enjoying the blessings of a restoration to good health, and now, four months since administering your NOLANDINE, there is not a symptom of recurrence.

I had several opportunities of testing the merits of your NOLANDINE for chills and fever in cases which had resisted the usual remedies for months, and had the satisfaction to see them entirely broken and permanently cured after a course of your NOLANDINE.

I know that I will incur the displeasure of the profession by departing from its usages, but candor and facts compel me to call the attention of my professional brethren to the valuable properties of your preparation, and trust that prejudice will not deter them from its use. I have found the action of your NOLANDINE on the liver and secretions more than equal to calomel, which is an additional recommendation.

Very respectfully, A. G. JONES, M. D.

409 EAST CLAY STREET, RICHMOND, VA., April 19, 1887.

J. W. Johnston, Proprietor of Nolandine:

During the last twelve months I have had frequent opportunities of testing the curative properties of your VEGETABLE NOLANDINE in the following diseases, and in not a single case did it fail to accomplish all that you claim for it: Dyspepsia and other catarrhal affections of the stomach and bowels, catarrhal affections of the kidneys and bladder, uterine catarrh and irregularities, malarial complications and habitual constipation, and as a general tonic and alterative, I have found it very efficacious.

Yours truly, JAS. A. GARLICK, M. D.

IRWIN P. O., GOOCHLAND, VA., August 1, 1889

To the Nolandine Company, Richmond, Va.:

From personal experience I can very cheerfully recommend NOLANDINE for all it claims, and, in this opinion, I am borne out by others who have tested its merits.

Yours truly, G. H. PALMER MOREWOOD.

TAYLORSVILLE, HANOVER COUNTY, VA.

The Nolandine Company, Richmond, Va.:

Gentlemen:—I have been a great sufferer from blood poison, which caused large sores to come all over my legs and feet, so that I could hardly wear my shoes, when I received a bottle of NOLANDINE from a friend. I began using it at once, and in less than ten days it had cured me completely. I think it the best remedy in the world. I am yours very respectfully, WM. M. TERRY.

To the Nolandine Company: June 1, 1889.

Permit me to add my testimony to the curative properties of NOLANDINE. For many years I have suffered from varicose veins. Twelve months ago I struck my leg against a chair, breaking one of the veins. The wound thus made could not be healed, except for a short time, then break out afresh. At times I suffered untold misery from local fever and the most insufferable burning sensation. By using two (2) bottles of your VEGETABLE NOLANDINE the ulcerated places healed, the swelling disappeared, natural sleep was restored, and my nervous system composed. As a vermifuge, NOLANDINE acted specifically on one of my children. As a blood purifier and general tonic your NOLANDINE has no equal. Gratefully yours, D. B. PROSSER.

At S. S. Cottrell's Son, 1302 Main Street, Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, VA., October, 1886.

My wife and three children returned to this city from Charles City County, where they contracted chills and fever, and their systems thoroughly saturated with malarial poison. One bottle of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE cured my entire family. My wife suffered for five years with dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and was permanently cured by VEGETABLE NOLANDINE, using only two bottles. J. B. BURTON.

RICHMOND, VA., July, 1889.

This is to certify that I have known of the superior qualities of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE for the past ten years, and during that time, at intervals, have had occasion to use it in person, and in my family, and have always found it a sure cure for derangements of the liver and kidneys, indigestion, headache, etc., and a good tonic. L. C. DAVIS, 804 North Fifth Street.

ROBIOW'S STATION, CHESTERFIELD CO., VA., March 25, 1885.

Mr. J. W. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—Having suffered for years with a chronic affection of the kidneys, derangement of the liver, and my general system charged with malarial poison, I found no relief from treatment of medicine until I used VEGETABLE NOLANDINE. I am now free from above complaints, and to NOLANDINE I am indebted for this restoration to health. I honestly recommend it to all persons suffering from the above diseases. WILLIAM DICKSON, Superintendent of Coal Mines.

RICHMOND, VA., May, 1885.

I can cheerfully recommend JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE to any one suffering from liver or kidney complaints and bilious derangement of the system. Its prompt and permanent action in my case affords me pleasure to recommend it to others similarly affected.

CHARLES P. SELDEN, Hardware Merchant,
Formerly with Singer Sewing Machine Co.

409 EAST CLAY STREET, RICHMOND, VA., March 10, 1886.

Mr. Jos W. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—I have used your NOLANDINE, and would cheerfully recommend it as a valuable medicine for malarial diseases and for promoting appetite, and a splendid tonic. For the relief of the pains consequent upon female weakness and irregularities I consider it without an equal.

Respectfully, MRS. L. M. BELL.

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY,
RICHMOND, VA., March 1, 1885.

I lived on lower James River for eight years in the malarial district. My sytem was thoroughly charged with this deadly poison. I exhausted the usually prescribed and domestic remedies without any benefit. I was induced to try JOHNSTON'S VEGETABBE NOLANDINE. Before using two bottles my liver was aroused from its long torpor, and I am now enjoying the best of health. My wife and children derived the same benefits from NOLANDINE. J. A. WYATT.

FLEET, KING AND QUEEN CO., VA., January 31, 1887.

I was afflicted with chills and fever during the fall of last year. I could stop them with quinine, but they wouldn't stay stopped; they would return the 7th, 14th, 21st, or 28th days. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of NOLANDINE, and I used it according to directions, and I have not had a chill since. I am in good health and weigh as much or more than I ever did. E. S. WILSON.

509 NORTH EIGHTH STREET, RICHMOND, VA

Mr. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—Your NOLANDINE has quite come up to all its promises. So valuable do I consider a family medicine that, unsolicited by yourself, I offer my certificate.

Yours truly, MRS. E. F. PATTON.

RICHMOND, VA., July 13, 1887.

J. W. Johnston, Proprietor Nolandine:

Dear Sir:—I have taken your NOLANDINE for habitual constipation of eight years' standing, during which time I have tried many preparations, but I did not receive any relief until I used your preparation, from which I have received immediate and permanent benefits. Was also suffering with malarial and blood poison. I am now free from all such complications and, I am happy to say, enjoying exceptionally good health.

Yours truly, J. B. DOWDEN,

412 EAST BROAD STREET, RICHMOND, VA.

J. W. Johnston:

I feel it but just to recommend your valuable medicine, NOLANDINE, for any trouble caused by torpid liver, or constipation produced by morphine or any drug used to subdue pain. As a tonic for delicate temales it is unsurpassed.

The above you are heartily welcome to use any way you deem best, and I will personally tell any one what it will do or application. Respectfully, MRS. A. E. ANTHONY.

RICHMOND, VA., October 1, 1889.

To whom it may concern:

For twelve months I was a fearful sufferer from chronic eczema, during which time I was in the hands of a m skillful physician, faithfully using his remedies, internal and external, without deriving any benefit whatever. I suffered night and day with the most intolerable itching, continuous headache, loss of sleep, appetite and strength. My kidneys and nervous system were fearfully deranged, and my body was covered with innumerable boils. By taking three (3) bottles of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE I have been restored to perfect health. I regard NOLANDINE as the best blood purifier and the most powerful tonic ever compounded, and I am not alone in this belief.

Very respectfully yours, &c., H. B. GRUBBS.
